Valuable Family Medicines.

JUST received direct from the proprietors, the following valuable Medicines, all of which have been in use for a number of years past, in almost every part of the United States; have been highly patronised by people of the first respectability; and approved by those who have had occasion to make use of them, for the cure of those disorders, for which they are severally calculated.

Dr. Lee's Genuine (Windham) Bilious Pills,

Universally known and used throughout the United States as a Family Medicine. The fame of these pills has become so great that many have attempted to counterfeit them—to guard against this, the proprietors have procured a Stereotype Label, and each box of Genuine Lee's Pills will hereafter be enclosed in one of these labels, with these words on the sides: "Lee's Genuine Windham Bilious Pills," and on the end of the Label the words, "Samuel Lee, patentee, &c. I. Thompson, agent, joint proprietor," &c. and should any be offered for sale without said Label on them, the purchaser may be apprised that they are counterfeit.

Dr. Thompson's Celebrated Eye-Water:

For the cure of inflamed and sore eyes of almost every description. This valuable preparation comes highly recommended from the most respectable sources. Price 50 and 25 cents a bottle.

Dr. Rawson's Genuine Itch Ointment:

A certain and safe cure for that disagreeable complaint, as well as other irruptions of the skin. Price 37½ cents a box.

Wheat, Old Corn, and Maryland Tobacco,

PURCHASED BY
Oct 4 LAWRASON & FOWLE.

Mr. Editor,

KNOWING that there is a number of the most worthless of society, who make it a business to spread evil reports respecting the solvency of banks in the different parts of the United States, for the purpose of depreciating and purchasing their paper. I feel it is my duty to give a list of the Banks of the District of Columbia, that it may be made known to all persons in every part of the Union, that the said Banks do pay specie for their notes, on demand, and that they are justly entitled to the highest credit and standing, and that they are opposed to a suspension of specie payments, and will be the last in the country that will agree to such a measure. This communication is made to prevent imposition, and to inform all persons who may have the paper of those banks, in any part of the Union, that they may hold it as so much specie. Persons emigrating and travelling north, south or west, would do well by taking the notes of those banks, as they will always find them equal to specie, and often to command a premium of 5 to 10 per cent. for remittances to Baltimore, Philadelphia & New-York. To my numerous acquaintances (trading men,) and the community, I pledge myself for the foregoing.

The following are the banks of this district that pay specie for their notes on demand, viz:
The Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank of Georgetown,
Central Bank of Georgetown & Washington,
Union Bank of Georgetown.
Bank of Columbia,
Bank of the Metropolis,
Patriotic Bank of Washington,
Bank of Washington,
Bank of Alexandria,
Union Bank of Alexandria,
Farmers' Bank of Alexandria,
Bank of Potomac,
Branch Bank of the United States at Washington.

I hold myself responsible for the foregoing declaration to the public. Done at my Exchange Banking House, Bridge-street, Georgetown, this 26th day of May, 1819.
ROMULUS RIGGS.

Editors of newspapers throughout the United States, by giving the above a few insertions, will greatly benefit the community. R. R.

GAZETTE
AND Alexandria Daily Advertiser.

PUBLISHED BY
SAMUEL SNOWDEN,
ROYAL-STREET.

Daily Gazette, 7 dolls...Country, 5 dolls.

FRIDAY, JUNE 11, 1819.

Charleston, June 4.

We received by yesterday's southern mail our regular file of the Royal Bahama Gazette, to the 12th ult. inclusive. Extracts follow. They contribute much to elucidate the system of plunder, carried on by the patriot privateers.

The U. S. schr Firebrand, Lt. Cunningham, arrived at Nassau on the 11th ult. and fired a salute, which was returned from Fort Charlotte.

Nassau, April 3.

Early in the last month we reported the arrival here of the American sloop Sally, Hopkins, with part of the crew of a Spanish Guineaman, called the Celeste, that were put on board by a privateer schooner, said to be the Patriot, J. B. commander, which captured her off Abaco. This Guineaman with about 170 slaves was subsequently wrecked near the west end of Grand Bahama on the 24th ult. The slaves were taken on board the privateer, which proves to be the schooner Hornet, captain Orne, from Baltimore, the same that was forcibly taken from one of the U. States revenue vessels that had been sent to detain her. While the Hornet was lying at Grand Bahama with the slaves on board, a long low schr joined her and they sailed together. The object of these freebooters is to get the slaves into Georgia. A short time previous to this, the Hornet carried a schooner to the same anchorage, which seems to be a place of rendezvous; she had in a cargo of sugar and coffee, which was transhipped into a sloop, in all likelihood, the same American sloop Sally that came in here and reported herself as last from St Augustine on her way to New Orleans and in want of provisions. Several of the crew quited the privateer while she lay at the grand Bahama.

April 10.

By the relation of the owner and a passenger on board the schooner Saucy Jack, that was captured some time in February last, by a schooner which was prize to the Felucca commanded by the notorious John Davis, alias Souti, circumstances of the most atrocious nature have been disclosed with respect to the treatment of the persons that were on board the Saucy Jack at the time. This sloop, a British vessel, Newman master, was from Mayari in Cuba for St. Thomas, with a cargo of tobacco—was taken by the schooner mentioned above, commanded by one Louis Dupuis, with a crew of St. Domingo blacks: the pilot of the sloop had his wife with him, a young woman of about 17 years of age. After the most brutal and diabolical abuse of this unfortunate creature, they slung the husband overboard, and having shot him, cut the body adrift. The owner of the sloop was detained about three weeks on board the schooner, and then landed on Long Island. The unhappy woman was kept on board and finally carried off in her. The sloop was given up to the master and two others, and proceeded to Long Island. The owner and the passenger have arrived here, and their examinations at the police office are to the foregoing purport.

It appears from further accounts, that the schr was equipped by John Davis, as a more suitable vessel for a privateer than his Felucca—that, while lying at the south end of Long Island, Davis and some of his officers being on shore there, the crew took possession of her and made off, leaving about 12 or 14 of their piratical comrades behind. Six or seven of them, however, have contrived to get to Heneagua and possess themselves of their old Felucca, which was lying there; they were expected to return to Long Island for Davis and his companions, who were at Cabbage Point on Tuesday last, with a great part of their plunder. Cabbage Point is reported to be the place of rendezvous for these robbers; and that a traffic in plunder is there carried on to considerable extent.

April 24.

As the paper was going to press the Sir Billy Curtis, capt. Pinder, arrived, which had been dispatched with a party from the garrison for the purpose of apprehending the persons at Long Island who have been charged with piratical conduct, and we have the satisfaction to announce that four of them are brought down and committed to gaol—the others had previously gone off. Davis and Dupuis are two of those committed.

Messrs. Editors,—Observing in your paper of Saturday last a report from the Charleston Courier, made by a Mr. Hulse, who "arrived at Darien on the 15th ult. 3 days from Bahama Key, with sugar, coffee and wine, shipped by John Smith of that place"—you will oblige one of your subscribers by inserting in your next paper the following facts, to counteract any impressions that might be made on the public mind prejudicial to Mr. Smith, by said report. Mr. Smith left the west end of Grand Bahama on the 3d March, and arrived in this port on the 10th, in the forenoon, and remained in Nassau until the 26th; during his absence, a schr came too off the west end of Grand Bahama, (said to have been captured by an armed brig) laden with sugar and coffee, but landed none; this load was discharged from the schooner into a sloop, then under the direction and apparently commanded by a capt. Allen, who said he had been sent by the agents or owners of the said armed brig to receive and take on board any or all articles captured by her. And as respects the "wine," a few casks had been some time previous made a present of to Mr. Smith by a capt. Beatty, who commanded an armed vessel called the Irresistable, alias Hornet, and which the said Allen had rolled out of Mr. Smith's barn, and put on board his sloop, without leave or license, saying he thought Beatty had rewarded Smith too liberally for any services he might have rendered or any inconvenience he might have been put to by Beatty or his men. Such is the state of the case, which I had from an unboubted source, and I am convinced Mr. Smith knew nothing of the tranction as stated by Hulse.

Yours, &c. A SUBSCRIBER.

Nassau, 23d April, 1819.

H. M. schooner Speedwell, Lieutenant Wemyss, arrived from Cuba on the night of Sunday last. She has been on shore on Ginger Key, and in imminent danger of being lost, but was fortunately got off after taking every thing out. A Spanish armed brig called Almirante, was lying under the Key when the schooner ran on shore, and taking her at first for a Venezuelian cruizer, proceeded towards her in a very hostile manner; on learning that she was H. B. M's. schooner the commander of the brig changed his conduct, but would not afford any assistance in getting her off, though he gave a passage to the pilot over to the main for the purpose of procuring a vessel in case one might be wanted. On her return from Cuba, the Speedwell met with a large privateer schooner called La Constantia, commanded by Job Northrop, with a tender, under a commission from Artigas, President of the Oriential Republic of La Plata—Desirous of speaking them before night, lieut. Wemyss bore up for them, and went on board the largest, where he was received very politely, but with all the parade of preparation. Capt. Northrop professed his disposition at all times to treat the British flag with respect; seemed to be perfectly informed of the state of things in this port, and acknowledged that he had some useful friends here.

The Portuguese ship Bom Successo, fr. Brazil, was sometime since captured by the vessel of war Valiente, W. S. Cristie, commander, under a commission from Artigas, President of the Republic Oriental Rio de la Plata. After having laid at anchor for many days at Rum Key, the B. S. was lately wrecked on Windward Little Island. The prize master arrived here three days ago, and several vessels have since sailed to bring down the cargo, consisting of sugar, cotton, rice, and hides.

The Swedish ship Constantia, Jonson, master, from Port-au-Prince, bound to Havre, in France, has been lately wreck-on Cotton Key, Bahama Bank—the master arrived here a few days ago with a part of the cargo which was saved, and some vessels have gone from hence to bring hither what more may be recovered from the wreck.

May 8.

Sailed this morning for Honduras, the transport ship Fame, Green, master, with his majesty's two black garrison companies, under command of captasn Roche, which, we understand are to be disbanded there.

Rear Admiral Sir Home Popham, had arrived at Havana before the Lee sailed, and was to proceed, as we understand, for St. Domingo, without the intention of touching at this port. This is to be regretted, as a short visit would have enabled Sir Home to obtain some information relative to the situation of the colony, that under his good offices, might have been rendered beneficial to it.

Several of the vessels which sailed a few days ago for the wreck of the Portuguese ship Bom Successo, at Windward Little Island, returned this morning without saving any of the cargo, the hull having been burnt before their arrival.

May 12.

The United States schooner Firebrand, lieut. Cunningham, commander, arrived here yesterday from a cruize last from St. Marys. On entering the port she saluted; and the compliment was returned from Fort Charlotte.——We have seen a few papers received from her, but they contain no later intelligence from England than we were in possession of previously.

The remainder of the cargo of the Swedish brig Constantia, Jonson, master, consisting of coffee chiefly, which had been landed on the Key, on which she had been wrecked, as already mentioned, has, we are informed, been taken off by some Independent cruizer, with the exception of such part as was wet and damaged.

By an arrival from Cuba we learn that there has been an engagement lately in the Old Straits, between a Spanish sloop of war and the Artigas privateer, La Constantia, Northrop commander, in which both vessels drew off having suffered severely.

The hull of the Portuguese ship Bom Successo lying at Windward Little Island, it is stated, was set fire to by one of the officers of the prize crew who had her in charge. Several small vessels have arrived with sugar, &c. saved from her, but about two thirds of her cargo it is said, has been lost.

New-York, June 7.

One of the crew of the brig Holker, a mulatto man, named Oliver King, was arrested in this city on Saturday, and examined at the police office, as to the murder of the captain, mate, and a passenger, which our readers will recollect took place while that vessel was on the voyage from Curacoa to this port. He denied that he had any agency in the horrid transaction; but was committed to prison on a charge of felony.

It appears that the mutiny occurred five days after the Holker sailed from Curacoa, in the evening. The mate, who was on deck, it being his watch, was first killed; they next called up and dispatched captain Brown; and captain Humphreys, the passenger, was murdered in the cabin, and the bodies thrown overboard. They then bored a hole through the Holker for the purpose of scuttling her, but a vessel heaving in sight, they precipitately took to the boat, and abandoned her, without knowing whether she sunk.

The object of the crew does not appear to have been plunder alone, but revenge, as two of them had run away while at Curacoa, and were probably exasperated on being arrested and forced back. Only one hundred dollars in money was found on board the Holker. [Mercantile Adv.

From the Boston Daily Advertiser, June 3.

Mr. Hale—At the late session of the supreme judicial court in this town, there was a cause tried in which the owners of the ship Galen, lately employed in the London trade from this port, were plaintiffs, and one Milligan was defendant. The action arose in consequence of the arrest of that vessel in London for a breach of the revenue laws of Great Britain; and, as it is of some importance to commercial men to understand their rights in cases of this sort, I furnish you with the following minutes of the facts disclosed at the trial, for insertion in your paper:

Eliakim Morse and Charles Eracy, vs. John Milligan.

This was an action of trespass on the case for deceitfully lading on board the ship Galen 13 barrels, as containing pitch—when in truth there was a quantity of manufactured tobacco artfully packed in each barrel. The injury complained of, was the seizure of the plaintiff's ship, in London, by the revenue officers of that port, and the expense and damage incurred in consequence of the seizure.

The facts as proved by the jury, were in substance as follows:—In the month of November 1817, the defendant, Milligan, who is a Scotchman, and one Timothy Connelly, an Irishman, went to a couple of caulkers and gravers in this town, and asked them if they could pack a quantity of pig-tail tobacco in pitch casks, in such a manner as should escape detection. The men told them they could, but objected to it on the ground that it might lead to a violation of our laws, or prove an injury to some of our ship owners; but Milligan and Connelly assuring them they intended to ship it on board an English vessel bound to St. Johns they consented to do it. Shortly after, Milligan and Connelly brought to their yard a number of rolls of tobacco, to be thus packed. The men immediately wrapped it up in stout brown paper, and put it into pitch casks, and to keep it separated from the sides of the casks, they put in sticks, which formed a kind of inside case for the tobacco. A quantity of pitch was then melted slowly, and before acquiring sufficient heat to penetrate the wrapping paper, it was poured into the casks.—The tobacco was in this manner so completely concealed as to render detection impossible, from the common mode of inspecting pitch.

In the beginning of December, Milligan and Connelly, went to see capt. Tracy, and asked him if he could carry from ten to twenty barrels of pitch, on freight, in the Galen; Connelly also representing that he wished to go out as a steerage passenger. to this capt. Tracy consented; and on the 3d of the month, Milligan shipped in his own name thirteen barrels, marked M. as so many barrels of pitch, consigned to Connelly, who took passage in the Galen.—The vessel arrived at London about the 20th of January, 1818, and the supposed pitch was safely landed. Connelly on his passage, told the mate of the ship, that he expected to make a considerable number of trips in his vessel, if he found his business succeeded, it being of a sort to require his personal attention on both sides the water. This the mate paid little or no attention to at the time, but after the detection of the fraud, he easily understood Connelly's meaning. It was proved by the testimany of Mr. William Douglas Hopkins, a merchant of London, Mr. Sampson Rainforth, one of the landing waiters of the Customs of London, and by Mr. Benj. Webber, the mate of the Galen, that the barrels were regularly passed at the Custom House as so many barrels of pitch; but that just as Connelly was removing them, Morris, the landing surveyor, seized them, in consequence of some private information he had received on the subject, and immediately after he, for this cause, seized the ship.—The vessel remained under detention a month, and it was proved by Mr. Hopkins that captain Tracy was put to great trouble in procuring a release of the ship, without a prosecution in the Exchequer Court.—The commissioners of the revenue finally released her, on payment of a fine of fifty guineas. In the mean time, another vessel, the Hope, by reason of the seizure of the Galen, was entering outwards at the custom-house for freight to Boston, and some freight designed for the Galen was sent to Liverpool, and the owners of the ship suffered considerably in this respect; and for a little time capt. Tracy's reputation as a correct ship-master, was put at hazard in London; and Mr. Rainforth stated if he had not been so well acquainted with the integrity of capt. Tracy, he should have entirely withdrawn all confidence from him, a circumstance which would have proved a material and lasting injury to capt. Tracy.—On the return of the Galen the master, after some labor, traced the history of the transaction as above stated.

The only defence attempted by Miligan was that he did not intend to break the laws of the United States, and that it was no crime to break the revenue laws of any foreign nation, and that he was not the owner of the tobacco, nor had he any interest in it, but shipped it merely to oblige his friend Connelly.

The cause was submitted on this evidence, and the Judge instructed the jury that the parties were entitled to recover the damages sustained by them for monies expended in procuring the liberation of the vessel, for loss of time, trouble, &c and for loss of freight.

The jury, after an enquiry by one of them if Milligan was worth any thing, and being informed he was poor, went out and shortly after returned with a verdict of, for the parties, for six hundred dollars. Some one of the jury after the trial, stated that if Milligan had been a man of property, it would have been as easy to obtain a verdict for six thousand dollars as for six hundred, the fraud being of so flagrant a character and so injurious in its tendency to ship owners and ship masters.

FOREIGN.

London, April 17.

An old seamen, about 90 years of age, is now living at South Shields, who has been no less than forty eight voyages to the Greenland fishery.—Being sent upon one occasion with a boat's crew, to make fast a rope to an iceberg, he alone, mounted the floating Island, and the boat left him. On walking round to the sunny side of the pillar of ice, he observed a large white bear basking. He immediately called to his comrades to fetch a spear, but Bruin not appearing disposed to await its arrival was preparing to attack the man, who, with great presence of mind, took from his foot one of his heavy shoes armed with iron pikes, and with a desperate blow felled his brute assailant. A repetition of blows soon deprived the animal of life, and the gallant seaman brought him home as a trophy of genuine heroism. He still preserves the bears head, which is hung up in his apartment, by means of a string attached to it, he makes the mouth to open and shut when any stranger visits him.

ENORMOUS HAIL.

Extract of a letter dated Arisaig, 14th March, 1819.

"After a winter, the mildest in the recollection of any one living, and a spring, till the 15th inst. equally so, the weather has been stormy, cold and variable. This morning was very wet here; a little sunshine about noon; aboot 8 o'clock P. M. thunder scarcely audible; then showers of rain and snow—it was a storm. Standing near a window, flashes of lighting blazed in my face; loud peals of thunder ensued; so near and forcible as to shake the house (two stories high;) this was repeated three or four times in quick succession, and being followed by heavd hail and rain which smothered the wind. As I was looking out at the window observing the atmosphere, till then close and dark, clearing up a little, very large hail stones attracted my attention; at first they fell at about a yard's distance from each other, and were about three fourths of an inch in diameter. They soon fell thicker, and gradually diminished in size. Had they been driven by a strong wind they would have broken all the glass of the windows. Many of the largest were taken in, which were small and rough at one end. Some of them were round, the general form of them was oval."

A young man of the name of Woodward, a resident of Exeter, who was present at the execution of two capital convicts in that city last week, was so shocked at the sight when the men were turned off, that he complained of a sudden pain at the heart, when he returned home immediately, and died in a few hours after.

In the course of some recent diggings near Fanagoria, in the Government of Tauris, a vault, in the form of a tomb, was discovered, containing a human body of prodigious size, in a state of high preservation. It is presumed that the body has lain their since a remote period of antiquity, for it is well known that Tauris formed one of the Colonies of ancient Greece.—The head was encircled with a laurel wreath in gold; on the forehead was a gold medal, with a head, and the initials P. P. (Philip.) On each side of the body were vases of silver and porcelain, chains of gold and earings. On one of the fingers was a gold ring, with a precious stone, on which were engraven two figures, the one male, and the other female, admirably executed

A ROBBER DESTROYED BY SERPENTS.

The following improbable story is related in the Journal des Maires, from which we have translated it, for the amusement of our readers. The French papers copy it from the Nuremburg Correspondent.

"A banditti, consisting of eight persons had been arrested during the night, in a village near Venice. As it was too late to transport them elsewhere, they were put into a dungeon, and the chief of the band, notorious for his cruelty, and the number of assassinations he had committed, was confined in an old tower which had been uninhabited for some time. Towards midnight, the centinel, who was near this tower, having heard at first oaths, and afterwards groans, reported this to the local authority. Little importance was attached to it, and they waited till morning to confirm the circumstance: but what was their astonishment, when, at break of day, they repaired to the tower, they found the prisoner dead, and all his limbs mangled. In order to discover the cause of so terrible a death, they deposited in the same place several pieces of poisoned food. At the end of two days, thirty six serpents were found dead in the same place."

Pittsburgh, (Penn.) June 1.

On Wednesday last the remains of gen. Pressley Neville, which had been interred in December last, at Neville, in Ohio, were brought to this city in the keel boat Triton, and deposited in the episcopal burial ground. On this occasion a most numerous crowd of citizens attended, to pay the last respect to the man, the early part of whose life had been devoted to the service of his country, and who had consecrated the latter part to the duties of hospitality, benevolence, and charity.

The order of procession was formed at 6 o'clock, P. M. in the following manner:

The Clergy,
Physicians,
Military,
Pall Bearers, BODY, Pall Bearers,
Mourners,
Mayor and Recorder,
Select Council,
Common Council, Citizens.

The election of Mr. John Randolph, of Roanoke, to Congress, reminds us of the elegant eulogium pronounced by that gentleman on colonel Pickering, which may justly be considered as a voluntary tribute to virtue, delivered on the floor of Congress Hall in 1817, at which time they both had the honor of a seat in that dignified body.

"No man in the United States has been more misunderstood—no man more reviled (and that is a bold declaration for me to make,—than Alexander Hamilton—unless, perhaps, the venerable member from Massachusetts, who generally sits in that seat, (Pickering) and whom, whatever may be said of him, all will allow to be an honest man.

"The other day, when on the compensation question, he was speaking of his own situation—when his voice faltered and his eyes filled at the mention of his poverty, I thought I would have given the riches of Dives himself for his feelings at that moment—for his poverty was not the consequence of idleness, extravagance or luxury; nor of the gambling spirit of speculation—it was an honorable poverty; after a life spent in a laborious service, and in the highest offices of trust under government, during the war of independence, as well as under the present constitution.

"Sir, I have not much, altho' it would be gross affectation in me to plead poverty—what I have, however, such as it is, would freely give to the venerable gentlemen, if he would accept it, to have it said over my grave, as it may in truth be said over his—here lies the man who was honored with the confidence of WASHINGTON, and the enmity of his successor."

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax. Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again. Land for Sale.

I WILL sell a great bargain in a small tract of land, containing about 150 acres, more or less, lying on the Potomac river and Monroe's creek, between the two, on the north side said creek, and forming the mouth, whereon William Williams has for many years resided. This situation would be particularly convenient for any person who follows the water, the Creek forming an excellent harbor, and the neighborhood being wealthy, constant freights might be got. The land is susceptible of great improvement, and is the very best wheat land in all the neighborhood. As it is presumed any person wishing to purchase will first view the premises, a further description is thought unnecessary. For terms apply to the subscriber, near Mattox Bridge, Westmoreland county, Virginia.

Public Sale.

ON the 9th DAY of JULY next, at 12 o'clock of that day, by virtue of a deed of trust, we will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, on the premises, that very valuable tract of land in Fairfax county, near Holmes's Run, and about four miles from Alexandria, generally known by the name of containing about 115 acres. This land is about one half in wood—the balance cleared, and in cultivation, with convenient buildings on it, and excellent water near them. A considerable proportion of the open land is fertile, and well calculated for timothy meadows.

The sum of $2,254 77 cts will be required to be paid in cash; for the residue a credit of twelve months will be given from the day of sale, the purchaser paying interest thereon, and giving satisfactory security for the punctual payment thereof. A conveyance will be made when the purchase money and interest is all paid up. If the terms of the sale should not be complied with by the purchaser, the premises will be immediately re-sold to the highest bidder, at the risque of the person to whom it shall have been struck off; and the same course will be repeated until an effectual sale shall have taken place.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensels and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirious of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutricious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and is further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be governed by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25

100 Dollars Reward.

IS known to have been kidnapped from a field near Germantown, between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock, on the 30th ult. whilst at work alone, a Free Black Man, named HENRY HUDSON, aged between 21 and 22 years, of the height of five feet five inches, very black complexion and dark eyes, has a scar under his left arm, between the wrist and elbow, occasioned by the cut of an axe.

He is by occupation a farmer, a native of Kent county, in the state of Delaware, had on a blue cloth roundabout jacket, old black silk vest, corded velvet pantaloons, and a wool hat.

He is a very civil, inoffensive man, with rather a down look. There is reason to suppose that he was decoyed into a carriage, and conveyed southward.

Any information respecting him will be thankfully received. Keepers of turnpike gates, toll bridges, and taverns, are particularly requested to give such information as may be in their power.

The above reward will be cheerfully paid on conviction of the perpetrators of this flagrant outrage upon the rights of a freeborn citizen of the United States.

Exchange & Broker's Office,

Georgetown, District of Columbia.

ROMULUS RIGGS,

AT his office, next doo below Crawford's tavern. Bridge-st Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on. August 18

Curvature of the Spine.

DR. HAMILTON,
No. 47, North Gay street, Baltimore,

HAVING turned much of his attention during a long practice to the diseases of the Spine, begs leave to tender his services for the cure or relief of that afflicting malady. The approach of this disease is easily detected by an attentive observer. It makes its appearance generally in children between the second and sixth year; a protuberance of one or more of the small bones composing the spine becomes evident, loss of appetite, irregularity of the bowels, an emaciation soon follow, together with much disinclination to walk—and unless immediate aid is obtained, death or incurable decripitude through life are the certain consequences.

Doctor Hamilton has the satisfaction of knowing that his treatment of this disease, and application of the necessary apparatus, which is simplified at the same time, that it is materially improved, have received the unqualified approbation of many of the most eminent of his medical brethren in Baltimore. Spring corsets, upon a new principle, can be applied for the use of young ladies evincing a tendency to this disease, which, while they afford the most effectual support for either side, may be worn without observation. Satisfactory references might be given to parents whose children have profited by this improved mode of treatment, did not delicacy forbid the publication: they may be easily obtained if desired, by a private interview.

Messrs. Corse & Rounsaville,

Editors of the Alexandria Herald:

GENTLEMEN, Your favor of the 2d inst. is at hand, wherein you offer me an opportunity, through the medium of your paper, to reply to an anonymous publication of the 31st ultimo, for which you will please to accept my thanks. My reply to that piece, and all others of like character, is, that I have avoided as much as possible coming in contact with blackguards and assassins. Further, that all publications coming from me are intended to convey useful information to the public, and to prevent imposition.

Permit me also the further privilege of your paper, that I may make it known to all persons in every part of the Union, that the Mechanics' Bank of Alexandria do now pay specie for their notes on demand, and that persons holding their paper may rely on its being promptly met. Vaccine Institution.

THE small pox having appeared in Alexandria, such persons as have been vaccinated by the subscriber are invited to attend at his office, on St. Asaph-street, between Prince and Duke streets, to have their arms examined. Indigent persons are also invited to the same place for the purpose of being vaccinated. The subscriber will attend at his office every day in the week except Sunday, from 7 o'clock until 10 in the morning, for the purpose of receiving them.

He proposes also to be less particular than heretofore in the investigation of their claims to the benefit of the institution, as may respect their indigence and length of residence in town. The subscriber earnestly requests all such citizens as may be acquainted with persons liable to contagion, to send them without delay as above directed, where they will be served effectually and gratuitously.
